Council Hears Plan of Activity Reorganization

Pierson Suggests Consolidation of Clubs With Similar Interests

RECOMMENDS CREDIT

Murphy, Bacon, Edwards, Fagelson Appointed Investigating Committee

After dealing a severe rap to habitual absentee members, Student Councilmen heard a proposal for complete reorganization of extra-curricular activities at its bi-weekly meeting Thursday evening. Attempting to stir an increased interest among students in activity organizations, Ted Pierson, Council president, suggested the consolidation of clubs whose interests were the same. Pierson would, however, coordinate only those clubs whose members wished such action as a means in injecting new life in the organization.

"Many schools make participation in extra-curricular activities by the student virtually mandatory to graduation, or at least allow semester hours credit; and it might be well that we had such a system here," Pierson told the Council.

A committee consisting of Arthur Murphy, chairman, Betty Bacon, James Edwards, and Bernard Fagelson was named to investigate the feasibility of the complete reorganization.

Though not all habitual absentees, those councilmen not present Thursday were: Alice Althen, Ruth Critchfield, Katherine Cutler, Vernon Goodrich, William M. Hoover, Jr., Jaul L. Moats, and Ben H. Sullivan, Jr. Critchfield advised councilmen previous to the meeting of her contemplated unavoidable absence.

Murphy, in advocating membership in the National Student Federation of America, told the Council that many advantages would be offered the University, among them being access to the Federation's Bureau of Student Activities. The bureau conducted surveys on practically every form of student activity in the country.

The debate representative, also stressed the valuable assistance offered college speakers through international debate and radio forums sponsored by the NSFA.

A vote on the matter will probably be taken at an early meeting, President Pierson stated.

Representative Fagelson lauded the "Co-op" when he said, "Our Sophomore Prom, in comparison with previous years was a financial success, and this was due to the 'Co-op'."

The Council moved that all sales for "Co-ops" close at 6 a. m., November 10.

Harriman, Laidler On Radio Program

"Public Ownership—Its Possibilities and Limitations" Will Be Subject of Talks

Henry I. Harriman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Harry W. Laidler, executive director of the League for Industrial Democracy, will speak on "Public Ownership—Its Possibilities and Limitations" on the weekly radio program, "Economics in a Changing Social Order," to be broadcast over station WRC from 10:30 to 11 p. m., Thursday.

Reinhold Niebuhr, associate professor of philosophy of religion at Union Theological Seminary, and Jerome Davis, associate professor of practical philanthropy on the Gilbert L. Stark Foundation, at Yale Divinity School, were the speakers on last week's program. Their subject was "Industrial Incentives and Wealth Distribution."

These weekly broadcasts, which are now in their fourth season, are under the auspices of the National Advisory Council on Radio in Education in cooperation with the League for Industrial Democracy.

English Debaters Honored at Tea

Michael Foot and John Stafford Cripps, members of the Oxford debate, were guests of the International Students' Society at a tea October 29 in Columbian House. Mr. H. W. A. Freese-Pennfather, third secretary of the British Embassy, was also an honored guest. Members of the public speaking department, including the George Washington debaters, Arthur Murphy and Dix Price, were also present. The faculty was represented at the tea by William Crane Johnstone, dean of the Junior College; Prof. Alan T. Deibert, adviser to foreign students, and Prof. Henry Goddard Roberts, of the public speaking department. Mrs. Virginia G. Barrows and Mrs. Willard H. Yeager were hostesses.

W. Va. Cheering Section Planned By Rousers' Club

Plans are now under way for the transportation of 420 students to act as a cheering section at the G. W. W. Va. game. This decision was reached at last week's Rousers Club meeting.

In order to carry out the plan, one man from each campus fraternity has been appointed to a key position by Selmer Johnson, president of the Rousers. It will be the duty of each of these men to get the names of those intending to go on the trip, in order that definite plans may be made for a cheering section at the game.

Dean Doyle Will Speak Thursday On Radio Forum

Col. College Head to Discuss Influence of Languages

"Words Are Queer Things!" will be the topic of the discussion to be given by Dean Henry Grestian Doyle of the Columbian College over station WMAL on the University Series of the Radio Forum, Thursday, 7:45-8 p. m. Dean Doyle's talk deals with the pronunciation of the words in the English language, their meanings, changes, and development, and the origin of the so-called "slang," showing how the modern English that we speak today is closely interwoven and connected with foreign languages.

The characteristics of the old languages of the Britons, Romans, Anglo-Saxons, Danes, Normans, and other early historical peoples will be brought out to show the effects they have had on modern English.

Dean William Crane Johnstone, Jr., of the Junior College was the speaker on last Thursday's program. Dean Johnstone has just returned from the Orient, and his talk concerned the "Three Cities of Shanghai," telling of the unique problem of three different governments within one city, namely the French concession, the International concession, and the Chinese city.

Women's Society To Hold Tapping

Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary scholarship society for freshmen women, is planning to tap four freshmen women Wednesday, November 14. Two names have been certified to the society already for tapping and the eligibility of the two others is being checked.

Plans for initiation of the new members will be made at the regular meeting of the sorority Thursday.

Rasmussen to Conduct Chapel Service Friday

Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, president of the Washington Federation of churches, will speak at the regular chapel service Friday noon in Corcoran 10.

The Luther Club will, at the same session, present several books to the University Library in recognition of the birthday of Martin Luther on November 10.

Volz, Kahn, Chittum Selected Principals in "Torch-Bearers"

Verna Volz, Maxine Kahn, and Amanda Chittum, have been selected from more than 100 applicants to play the leading roles in Cue and Curtin's first production of the year, "The Torch-Bearers." Anton Hardt, director, announced at last night's rehearsal. Others in the cast are: Norma Michelson, Hamilton Coit, Machin Gardner, Deane Bryant, Sue Slater, Fred Stevenson, Berry Simpson, Marguerite DeMeritt, and Harold Mullin.

Verna Volz, who portrays eighty, bitty Mrs. Ritter, is making her first appearance in G. W. dramatics. She has played at McKinley High School and with the Mt. Pleasant Players.

Maxine Kahn plays the comic part of the domineering Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli. Maxine is well known in campus dramatics, having played important roles in "Louders, Please" and "Cock Robin."

Amanda Chittum, star of many Cue and Curtin and Troubadour shows, fills the role of Florence McCrickett, leading lady of the play within the play.

Greek Council in Battle Over Cup For Scholarship

Kappa Alpha Protests
Award to Phi Sig Although List Was Late

Discussion, both pro and con, on awarding the interfraternity scholarship cup for last year to Kappa Alpha instead of to Phi Sigma Kappa, tentatively slated to receive it, took up most of a lengthy meeting of the Interfraternity Council Sunday at the K. A. house.

The only step taken was the appointment of a committee by Morse Allen, president of the Council, to investigate the matter and report back with recommendations at the next meeting of the Council.

Reeder Lodges Protest

The matter was brought before the Council by Bye Reeder, Kappa Alpha's delegate, after a report from the Registrar's office showed Phi Sigma Kappa with the highest average for the year. In the Registrar's report K. A. was listed for the second semester "not reported." After this report was made public, Kappa Alpha submitted its list and found its average for the year to be 2.34, .12 higher than Phi Sig's. Reeder and other members of the Council based their arguments on the contention that the cup should go to the group actually attaining the highest average without disqualification simply for failure to submit a list of members within the prescribed time.

Insist on Report

Members opposed to this stand pointed out that in past years chapters had been eliminated from consideration for this same reason and contended that the Registrar's report should be accepted as final as had been done in the past.

Fred Rawlings, S. P. E.; Herold Wildman, Sigma Mu Sigma; and Lowell Bradford, S. A. E., comprise the committee investigating the matter. Later a committee will be appointed by the Interfraternity Council for awarding the cup in the future, Allen announced.

Tansill Discusses Biography Trends

Addresses First Meeting of Newly Formed Library Association

"New Trends in Biography" was the subject upon which Dr. C. C. Tansill, of American University, spoke at the first meeting of the newly formed Young Peoples' Library Association of the District of Columbia held at the Grace Dodge Hotel Gardens Saturday.

Four George Washington students and alumni of the Library Science Division heard Dr. Tansill say that "Biography writing is changing, the dry uninteresting old type giving way to the new interesting novel type, people are giving us the truth in the new biographies, unpleasant as it seems."

The young peoples' department was formed early this year under the direction of the District of Columbia Library Association. Leslie James acted as chairman at the organization's first meeting last Monday.

Marion Ervin, president of the Library Science Society of the University; Janet Felker, vice president of the organization; Lester Smith, president of the Library Science Alumni Association; and Lorraine Lincoln represented George Washington at the meeting.

Volz, Kahn, Chittum Selected Principals in "Torch-Bearers"

Norma Michelson, another newcomer to Cue and Curtin, plays the part of Mrs. Nelly Fell, the perennial ingenue. She taught speech in the city high schools of New York.

Hamilton Coit and Machin Gardner play the leading male roles. Coit, who played in "Journey's End" and "Louders, Please," portrays Mr. Huxley Hosselrose. Gardner, who plays as Mr. Ritter, has participated in dramatics in the Teachers' College in Macomb, Ill., and in Des Plaines, Ill.

The role of Mr. Spindler, "aide-de-camp" to Mrs. Pampinelli, will be portrayed by Deane Bryant, another newcomer to campus dramatics. Sue Slater, also making her debut at G. W., plays Mrs. Shepherd.

Fred Stevenson and Berry Simpson play Teddy Spearing and Ralph Twiller, two members of the play which is presented as a part of the main production.

Marguerite DeMeritt, as Jenny, the "English maid," and Harold Miller, as the Stage Manager, complete the cast.

Freshmen Ballot On 5 Candidates For Class Prexy

Senior Council Offices
Also on Block; Polls
Open 10-1, 4-7

From a list of 12 official candidates released yesterday, members of the Class of 1938 will pick four officers to lead their organization during the coming year at the polls Thursday and Friday.

The ballot box in Corcoran Hall will be open from 10 to 1 and from 4 to 7 p. m. during the two days of voting. To be eligible to vote a student must not be credited with more than 30 semester hours of work.

Voters must present their activity books in order to receive a ballot.

By 5 o'clock Friday night, 21 candidates had signified intentions to run for office by turning in nominating petitions to the Student Council election committee. Yesterday the list was reduced to 12 as a result of nine withdrawals and ineligibilities.

Ross Pope, chairman of the elections committee of the Student Council, indicated that a lively contest for the office of president of the freshman class might be expected between the five certified candidates.

Candidates certified as eligible to run for president are Austin Cunningham, Carleton Edwards, Lewis Holmes Lloyd, Kim Wessels, and Robert Bernstein. The original list of presidential nominees numbered nine, but two dropped out Sunday and two others were declared ineligible by the registrar yesterday.

At the same time Freshmen are balloting for their class officers, students of the School of Engineering, the School of Pharmacy, and the Division of Library Science will vote for Student Council representatives from their schools.

Only one candidate for each of the representative offices has been certified, and the approval of one of these is still in doubt. Andrew F. Freeman, only candidate for the School of Engineering, remaining after the withdrawal of William A. Heine, and Hazel Haynes, lone representative of the Division of Library Science, will seek approval of their respective schools. The eligibility of S. J. Latona, only candidate from the School of Pharmacy, is likely to be contested, the registrar stated.

"Tuffy" Leemans and Abe Mickal to Battle for Individual honors

By John Busick
(Sports Editor)

Undaunted by the fate that allowed the first touchdown scored against it also to bring the first defeat, Coach Jim Pixlee's eleven quietly awaits the second invasion from the sunny South when Louisiana State's raging Tigers roar into town to battle the Colonials in p. m.

Despite the fact that odds at game time will heavily favor L. S. U., Pixlee's boys are preparing to redeem themselves, not only in the eyes of students and the football world, but in the eyes of thousands of alumni who will be on hand to see the Homecoming game.

Tigers Confident

The fast-traveling "Kingfishers," riding on the crest of a wave that has kept them undefeated, will go into the game confident of an easy victory over the team beaten by Vanderbilt. The comparison of Saturday's score with the crashing 29-0 defeat handed Vandy by the Tigers week before last has put the latter in a cock-sure, easy frame of mind.

A determined, fighting crew of Colonials may put forth superhuman effort and upset the L. S. U. apple-cart. The kind of football played against Tulsa would produce a result calculated to shock the Tuffies world.

"Tuffy" Leemans, one-man backfield for whom Pixlee is desperately trying to find aid, meets another of the South's leading backfield aces in Abe Mickal. The Syrian flash is a great kicker, fine passer, and a hard runner. He

Malkus Forms New Pep Band; Corley Director

Will Play at Pep Rallies,
Games and Informal
Student Affairs

Announcement of the formation of a "Pep Band" to function at informal University affairs has been made by Louis Malkus, director of the University Band. At the same time, William Corley was appointed student director of the organization, which will play at all pep rallies, basketball games, and purely student affairs where a band is needed.

According to Malkus this will remedy a long felt need, inasmuch as in the past it has been possible to have the band at only the more important basketball games. In the future, however, the "Pep Band" will play at all games. It is the intention of Malkus to make the "Pep Band" an entirely student affair; for although he will aid in rehearsal, the organization will always appear publicly under the student director.

The class of music used by the "Pep Band" will differ from that of the regular band, in that they will prepare no concert pieces, specializing in snappy marches, college songs, and other light numbers.

The "Pep Band" will be ready to make its debut at the rally Friday afternoon.

Liberal Club Meets Tonight

The Liberal Club will hold a short business meeting tonight in Corcoran Hall 12 to make final plans for its rally next Monday. George Edwards, guest speaker, from Harvard, will speak at the meeting.

NEW BAND TO PLAY

To Decorate Fraternity
Houses Friday, Saturday; Cup to Winner

The University's Third Annual Homecoming celebration begins with a pep program in the gymnasium Friday at 4:45 p. m., includes the traditional formal ball at the Willard Hotel Friday night, and reaches a climax in the George Washington-Louisiana State football game at Griffith Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Charles F. Baker, president of the General Alumni Association, will conduct the short, colorful alumni-student pep rally in the gymnasium Friday afternoon.

President Cloyd Heck Marvin will welcome old grads and introduce them to the student body following the playing of "Hail to the Buff and Blue," by the new student-directed pep band.

Coaches to Speak

Cheers, songs, and band music, including the Louisiana State football "swing," will precede the introduction of the George Washington and Louisiana State football teams. Coach "Biff" Jones, Louisiana's famous pilot, and Jim Pixlee, George Washington mentor, will also speak.

The two coaches will be heard over Washington radio stations Friday night and will give their predictions of Saturday's games. Jones will probably speak over WOL at 8:15 and Pixlee over WMAL at 9:30. The Glee Club will be included on the latter program.

Ranking second on the program only to Saturday's game, will be the Homecoming Ball at the Willard Hotel Friday night from 10 to 1:30 o'clock. At 10 p. m. the hotel's main ballroom will be the scene of the grand march of alumni, celebrities, University officials, and student leaders.

Promptly at midnight James Kirkland, general chairman of the homecoming celebration, will present the interfraternity cup to the fraternity with the best decorated house. The award will be based on appropriateness and effectiveness of the theme. Fraternity houses will be reviewed by the judges from 7 to 9 o'clock Friday night.

Police Give Permit
The cup, a permanent award, is selected by the interfraternity council and presented by the homecoming committee. Sigma Chi has won the award for the past two years.

Zoning restrictions usually in effect for fraternities will be dropped during the gala three-day program, with spot lights and noise makers permitted. The permit, secured by the homecoming committee from the District of Columbia Police Department, enables fraternities to decorate their houses at will. Restrictions will, however, go into effect after 10 o'clock Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings.

Alumni Glee Club Sings

Gates and Key, honorary interfraternity social fraternity, will present keys at the ball to eight new members initiated last week. The newly formed Alumni Glee Club will make its first appearance at the ball. The new group will present a concert in conjunction with the regular Men's Glee Club at 9:15 p. m. Their program will

Pledges Choose Draper President

First Meeting of Interfraternity Council Plans for Prom

Maurice Draper, member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, was elected president of the Interfraternity Pledge Council at a meeting Sunday. Other members of this year's council are John Stetson, Sigma Mu Sigma, vice president; Al Graeff, Theta Delta Chi, secretary; William Magruder, Kappa Alpha, treasurer; Robert Schneider, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social chairman; and Tom Toner, Kappa Sigma, activities chairman.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the Interfraternity Pledge Prom, which will be held at the Willard Hotel around the middle of December. Serving on this committee headed by Robert Schneider are Bob Scharr, Delta Tau Delta; Paul Brogren, Sigma Chi; Machin Gardner, Acacia; and Baxter Davis, Sigma Nu.

The next meeting of the council will be held Sunday at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

Article On Employees' Wages Featured In New Law Review

Though no provision is specifically made in the National Recovery Administration statute permitting an employee to bring a civil action for the recovery of wages against his employer, three legal advisors of the NRA, in an exclusive article for the George Washington Law Review, will say that by implication, the employee has the right to bring his private action in either a State or Federal court.

The article "Work Day in Court: Employee's Right to Code Wages," by Thomas C. Billig, director of legal research; Phillip F. Herrick, assistant counsel for litigation, will search, and J. Albert Fridinger, assistant counsel for litigation, will be released within a few weeks. It was learned this week from Prof. John A. McIntyre, Review editor.

"They discuss the legal basis for a private court action by an employee against his employer to recover the wages that are provided for by the code governing the industry," Professor McIntyre stated.

Continuing he said, "The NRA under which the codes are promul-

Let the Cup Stay

THE contention of Kappa Alpha that the interfraternity scholarship cup for last year, tentatively slated to go to Phi Sigma Kappa, should rightfully go to K. A. seems to us untenable.

According to the report made by the Registrar's office, copies of which were sent to each of the fraternities and to The Hatchet, Kappa Alpha failed to submit its list of members by the time limit set by that office for the purpose of computing the grades. It would seem, therefore, that K. A.'s failure to receive consideration is due entirely to its own negligence in failing to get the list in.

In several instances in the last three years fraternities which otherwise would have been at least in contention for the cup have been left for the same reason. Any method of deciding which group should get the cup would necessarily have to depend on the individual chapters getting their lists in at some given time and if they failed to do this the fault would lie with the negligent chapters.

Furthermore, we believe that a group which fails to submit its list on time not only should suffer the natural consequences of being omitted from consideration but should be additionally penalized.

Take the records for the second semester of last year, on which K. A. bases its contention, for an example. As the list was originally promulgated by the Registrar's office K. A. was "not reported." Suppose instead of being on top for the period K. A. had been on the bottom of the list; then that fraternity would be no more anxious to get its list in, even though late, than are the other fraternities which are "not reported" for the same period.

As the list was published Sigma Nu is on the bottom; if K. A. had been on the bottom instead of on top it would be obviously unfair to Sigma Nu that it should occupy the cellar position when another group rightfully belonged there. If a group would avoid the humiliation of last place by staying out of the running, why should it not then by the same token lose the honor when it is discovered after the results are published that the group would have won?

Welcome! Alumni!

THIS week the University celebrates its third annual homecoming.

Of course we extend a warm welcome to returning members of the alumni for "if such there be, go mark him well." But we cannot help but repeat a few melancholy reflections upon what "homecoming" amounts to for George Washington University and its graduates.

For the past two years The Hatchet of Homecoming Week afforded editors the year's big chance to brush the dust off that type that is ordinarily held in reserve for the end of the world. The celebration was big news. A fairly encouraging group of graduates from away visited the University and others wired their greetings. This year most of this interest is lacking.

George Washington University, more than any other, needs the support and interest of its alumni. Graduates of this University have won places of acclaim in all walks of life. Individually they have been of great credit to George Washington. But as a body the alumni is one of the world's weakest.

If there will ever come a time when graduates of this University will be interested in coming back to Homecoming, it will be only after many years of patient building.

Candidacy of Part-Time Students in Freshman Class Clouds Real Issue; Judiciary Recognizes Import of Vandy Game; IFPC Goes to Town

By VERNA VOLZ

FRESHMAN elections this week present a few issues of interest to that class of students quaintly known as thinking voters that might be aired in the conventional news channels. Have a thought on us.

For the first time, students who attended late afternoon classes last year and are therefore still technically freshmen are running for office in the class of 1938. Against their election it is argued that since they do not continue to be members of this particular class, throughout their academic careers, they could hardly be officers thereof. Also it is contended that since they are not fledglings in the true sense of the word, they will not draw the support of the bona fide day school freshmen.

Marshaled to the standard of the part-time candidate are all the arguments for the increase of interest and participation of the night school students in campus affairs, and all the pleas ever sounded for an increase in the active electorate if class office is to retain more than a shadow of significance to anybody except rush chairmen.

Neither set of contentions, it seems to us, are enough to elect or defeat a candidate. Men and women of each group should start from a par and stand or fall on qualifications. (Still just a Browning idealist, even after witnessing a few G. W. elections.) Certainly the day or night school standing of a candidate should never be the sole determining factor in the casting of even a single vote.

Delaying the elections of the first year class until this point in the semester has had one whole effect other than the one expected, and one not so healthy, politically speaking. As was intended, freshmen have had time to become in some measure oriented to the University and to become acquainted with one another.

Tuition of five leading law schools in the country is approximately double that of the George Washington University Law School, which enjoys an equal rating. Compared with around $224 annual tuition at George Washington, Columbia's annual charge is $300, Cornell, Harvard, and Pennsylvania is $400, and Yale is $450 annually.

In 1909, The Cherry Tree was dedicated to the Football team of 1908, which won the South Atlantic championship.

Fraternities Strive for Grades As Proof of Worth to Colleges

(From The Daily Northwestern)

THE announcement that fraternity grades for the last semester were higher than that of the open houses is a tribute to Northwestern fraternities. One of the most frequent criticisms of the fraternity system is that it is detrimental to scholastic achievement. The facts show this is not true at Northwestern.

Although fraternities are generally regarded as purely social in nature, it seems evident that they are able to compete with the open houses on a scholastic plane. Sororities, on the contrary, fell slightly below the average of the women's dormitories. However, the sorority average was quite high, and only the exceedingly high average of the dormitories forced them to take second place.

Many schools, however, are taking every opportunity to disable the fraternity system. At Yale, Psi Upsilon resigned from the Interfraternity Council and its national organization; moreover, Alpha Delta Phi decided not to elect new members for the time being. Both of these acts were prompted by acts of the administration against the fraternity system. The Yale Daily News predicts the complete downfall of all fraternities at Yale.

Chicago University has shown an unfavorable attitude toward fraternities, and many predict that they will slowly fall into oblivion. At the University of Tennessee, the local FERA board refused to give jobs to any who were pledged to a Greek letter fraternity. We find on every hand examples of colleges doing everything in their power to discourage, if not dissolve, the fraternities.

At Northwestern, however, they are an essential element of the school life—just as important as the classroom studies. Not only do they provide a healthy social life for the student, not only are they a potent influence in attracting desirable men to the school, but also they maintain a scholastic average above that of the university open houses.

Music

WHAT may well amount to one of the outstanding performances of the current season will be presented this evening when Sergei Rachmaninoff will give the Washington premiere of his new composition for piano and orchestra, a Rhapsodie on a Theme by Paganini. He himself will play the solo part accompanied by the Philadelphia under Leopold Stokowski.

The new composition was written in Switzerland during last summer. It is based upon Paganini's Caprice in A minor for violin, which also inspired Johannes Brahms to a series of variations for piano.

Brahm's Third Symphony, Stravinsky's Fire Bird Suite, and a short imaginative piece by Mary Howe, "Sand," will make up the rest of the program. The Brahms number mature, poetic, sensitive, as are all of his symphonies, will attract many.

Next Sunday afternoon at 4:00, the National Symphony will present Josef Lhevinne as soloist in Chopin's Concerto for piano and orchestra in F minor. They will present as well the overture to "Le Roi D'Ys" by Edouard Lalo, Haydn's Clock Symphony, and the over-lyric Pacific 231, of Hon-egger.

Says Students Should Rise for School Song

To the Editor of The Hatchet: I NOTE with regret the reluctance with which the student body arises at football games when the Alma Mater is played. It is indeed a sad state of affairs.

I do not think students can be accused of choosing George Washington University haphazardly as their school of higher learning. I am sure they deliberately picked G. W. from dozens of other possible schools. Therefore, they must have a feeling of pride for the University. Why do they not show it by arising when the band plays? They should.

Smoking in Classes Makes Others Drowsy, Is Student Complaint

To the Editor of The Hatchet: THERE seems to be a very prevalent habit among members of the student body which I, at least, have not noticed before this year, namely, the practice of smoking in the classrooms.

This is distasteful to many people, aside from the fact that the air in the room gets very heavy, making one drowsy and also increasing the possibility of catching cold for those unfortunate described by Listerine as "Cold-susceptibles" (Unfortunately one can not carry a bottle of Listerine to class to kill the big bad germs!) Yours for more and fresher air in the classrooms.

Willard Hotel Brilliant Scene of Third Annual Homecoming Ball Friday

Greek Banners Will Decorate Main Ballroom

Only Two Boxes to Allow More Space for Dancing; Varied Program

The third annual Homecoming Ball, sponsored by the George Washington University alumni and student body, will be held Friday evening in the main ballroom of the Willard Hotel. McWilliams' orchestra will play for dancing from 9 till 1. The ballroom will be decorated with University, fraternity, and sorority banners. Officials of George Washington will occupy a box, and it is expected that the officials of the Louisiana State University will occupy another.

The newly organized men's Alumni Glee Club and the University Glee Club jointly will give a short concert program at 9:15. At 10 o'clock the grand march will be held.

At midnight the Gate and Key award will be presented to the new initiates of the society. Following the ceremony, the fraternity having the best decorated house for Homecoming will receive the alumni cup.

Wendall Bain heads the Homecoming Ball committee. He is assisted by Bernard Fagelson, Ted Pierson, and Mac Gardner.

The faculty committee in charge of the ball consists of Dean Doyle, Professor Bolwell, Henry Herzog, assistant controller of the University, Jack Dishman, and James Kirkland.

Arts Division Fetes Guests

Approximately 250 members of the student body, alumni, and friends were guests of the Fine Arts Division last Saturday evening at an open house, sponsored by the Scarab Fraternity, honorary architectural society.

The first feature of the evening was a reception of the faculty. Among those in the receiving line were Wesley Budd, president of Scarab; Harold Bantini, vice president, and J. M. Berry, secretary. Members of the faculty included Dean Norris L. Cranwell, Prof. Kline, Mr. Eugene Weiss, Mr. George R. Roberts, and Mr. Albert N. Davis.

A buffet supper was served in the Fine Arts library following the reception. Dancing was enjoyed afterwards.

During the evening an exhibition of current work in architecture and graphic art was on view.

Engineering Fraternity Holds Dinner Meeting

Phi Theta Xi, professional engineering fraternity, was host to its alumni and to faculty members at a dinner meeting held November 2, at Sholl's Cafe. Dean John R. Lapham spoke briefly on behalf of the faculty. Seven or eight alumni attended the meeting, including H. Valpeau Darling and F. M. Hoffmann, past presidents of the fraternity.

'Petite Freshman' Found to Be Veteran Women's Rifle Coach

Helen Taylor Hanford, Coach Four Years, Directs Affairs from Desk

By Ruth Brewer
"May I see the coach?" I asked a little freshman who was sprawling in a prone shooting position on the floor of the rifle range in the basement of Corcoran Hall one day last week. The little freshman, garbed in a blue denim overall and jacket, raised her head and admitted that she was Helen Taylor Hanford, women's rifle coach.

Helen, a most attractive, petite blonde, said that she had been women's rifle coach for four years. She became coach in 1930, a year after she received her degree at George Washington.

Was Intercollegiate Champ
During her four years here, Helen was a member of the varsity rifle team. The team held the intercollegiate championship during her last three years and the year following her graduation.

In 1928 and 1929 Helen was captain of the sharpshooters. She tied for the intercollegiate championship one year. Until last year she held the highest individual record for the National Rifle Association matches. She also held a record for six consecutive perfect scores in separate collegiate matches. This record was such an unusual one that Helen's fame reached the ears of Ripley, who put the information in his "Believe It or Not" column. Helen says she should receive a book from Ripley because the column printed the information wrong.

Majoring in Psychology
While at G. W., Helen found time for other activities, too. Besides majoring in psychology, she was a member of the Cherry Tree staff, on the swimming team, an Hour Glass member, treasurer of the W. A. A., secretary of the freshman class, and vice president of the junior class. She was chosen by Eben Comings, noted artist, as the winner of the 1929 beauty-popularity contest. Helen was president of Pi Beta Phi that year also. Two years ago Helen Taylor became Helen Hanford. Her husband is a graduate of the University of Virginia.

HELEN T. HANFORD

Captain of High School Team
Even in high school, Mrs. Hanford was outstanding in rifle. The Central High school rifle team, of which she was captain, held the intercollegiate championship in 1925. At Camp Allegany in 1930 and 1931, Helen coached two winning teams in the summer camp matches.

Last year the women's rifle team, under Helen's leadership, placed third in the intercollegiate ranking. This year, with the assistance of Jane Picklin, manager, and Mary Louise Yauch, captain, Helen hopes to make the team the intercollegiate champions.

Columbian Women Hold Benefit November 17

The west ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel will be the scene of a benefit card party to be given by the Columbian Women, November 17. Proceeds from the party, which will begin at 2 p. m., will be used to furnish the second floor of Columbian House, the recreation building for George Washington students.

The Minister of Panama and Seneca Alfaro will be guests of honor at a meeting of Columbian Women at the Hotel Burlington, Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock. "The Ideal of Pan-Americanism" will be the theme of Dr. Alfaro's address.

Phi Delta Gamma Gives Fall Teas for Graduates

Phi Delta Gamma, graduate fraternity, entertained the graduate women of the University at its annual fall teas in Columbian House Thursday and Friday. Fraternity colors were used in the decorations of yellow roses and black candles. In the receiving line Thursday were Mrs. Joshua Evans, Mrs. Vinale G. Barrows, Elizabeth Cullen, Blanche Wilcox, Geraldine McNitt, Phoebe Knappen, and Elaine Arnaud, Dorothy Graf, Irma Belk, Virginia Kinnard, Ellen Anderson, Gertrude Spelden, and Dorothy Corson.

Dean and Mrs. Doyle To Honor Johnstones

Dean and Mrs. Henry Gratian Doyle will honor Dean and Mrs. William Crane Johnstone, Jr., at a tea for the members of the faculties of the Junior and Columbian Colleges and their wives Sunday, November 11, from 4 until 6 o'clock.

450 Participate In Sports Day At Hood College

Four hundred and fifty women will participate in the fall sports day program between G. W., Hood, and Goucher colleges at Hood College Saturday, November 17.

Hockey, soccer, volley ball, and tennis will round out a complete program. Two hockey teams from each school will be chosen from junior-senior and sophomore class teams. In soccer each school will be represented by two teams consisting of members of the freshman and upper class teams.

Two volley ball teams from each of the three, chosen from sophomore-senior, and freshman-junior teams will also compete. Ten girls from each school will compete in tennis doubles, and an archery, ping-pong, and tennis-quoit tournament will wind up the events.

Three students from each school will go horseback riding. Others will hike to the Hook shack, located in the mountains not far from the campus.

Hood college will be hosts to the visiting G. W. students at a dinner following the sports program. Buses will leave for Hood from Building T Saturday, November 17 and return at 7 p. m.

Delphi Initiates Twelve Honor Women Sunday

Delphi, honorary inter-sorority group recognizing outstanding campus service among the women's Greek letter groups, initiated 12 women Sunday afternoon at the Phi Mu rooms.

The initiates and their respective sororities are Dorothy Algire, Chi Omega; Alice Althen, Alpha Delta Theta; Marjorie Dengler, Delta Zeta; Frances Goodrich, Kappa Delta; Helen Hodgkins, Pi Beta Phi; Clementina Lawrie, Kappa Delta; Ethel McKeon, Alpha Delta Theta; Louise Munroe, Zeta Tau Alpha; Jewel Newman, Phi Delta; Louise Rex, Alpha Pi; Marie Smith, Sigma Kappa, and Mary Spelman, Alpha Delta Pi.

Colorful Backgrounds Feature Hallowe'en Week Celebrations

In colorful All Hallowe' Eve, backgrounds of cornstalks, grinning pumpkins, and distorted spooks, socially inclined George Washington students danced at numerous Hallowe'en celebrations last week.

Tau Epsilon Phi entertained at a party at Mishan Barn in Traylor, Md., Hallowe'en eve. The same evening the home economics club gave a carnival in Columbian House. In true carnival spirit booths for popcorn, bobbing apples, ninepins, and fortune telling extended the whole length of the second floor.

Sigma Nu's formal masked dance Hallowe'en night drew one of the gayest crowds of the season. Jack Benson's orchestra, partially hidden under gay streamers combined with illuminated pumpkins, a huge golden moon, cider kegs, and apple barrels, made the dance an elaborate affair. Sigma Chi entertained at an informal dance the same evening.

New Fencing Club Planned Within Month

Fencing, popular European sport, will be introduced to G. W. in the form of a Women's Fencing Club within the next month, according to Miss Ruth Atwell, women's physical education instructor.

The club will be open to women attending night school, as well as the members of day-time classes. Little or no expense will be subjected to members, as there will be no cost for instruction.

Applicants for membership should leave their name, address, and telephone number this week with Miss Atwell in Building T.

Further Pledging Announced

Athletic Alums Return to Play

Clash With Undergrad Women Part of Homecoming Sports

Former and present women's athletic teams of the University will compete in the women's sports program for Homecoming, which will be presented on the campus Saturday, from 9 a. m. to noon. Jennie Turnbull, outstanding woman athlete of several years ago, is chairman of the alumni program.

Virginia Pope, chairman of the homecoming sports program, has announced that the alumni-undergraduate competition and the exhibition tennis match by women qualifying for the semi-finals in the University women's open singles tournament, will be the outstanding events on the program.

A badminton and archery tournament in the gymnasium, and a rifle match to be held in the range, will conclude the program.

Law Students, Faculty, Alumni Propose Mixer

Marvin, Pollard, Will Be Guests at Reception and Dance

Final plans for a joint "mixer" in Stockton Hall, November 24, to which members of the Law Faculty, law alumni, and student bar-risters will be invited, are now being made, according to an announcement by Prof. J. F. Davison, Law Faculty, and Stanley W. Bob-skill, Student Bar Association president.

President Marvin, the Hon. John Garland Pollard, former governor of Virginia, and officials of the law alumni will be invited to attend the annual reception and dance.

Arrangements for the informal gathering are under the direction of two committees selected from the Law Faculty and the Student Bar. Faculty representatives are Prof. J. F. Davison, chairman, Prof. Walter C. Clephane, and Miss Helen Newman, Law Librarian.

Those on the Student Bar committee are Stanley W. Bobskill, chairman, Anne Anderson, E. F. Arledge, Anne Bassler, Joseph L. Bradford, Charles Labonte, and Anne K. Jefferies.

Music will be furnished by a University orchestra, and cider and doughnuts will be included in the refreshments.

Norment Hawkins, Of '33 Class, Dies

Norment D. Hawkins, III, A. B., '33, died last Thursday evening at the age of 24, after an illness with which he was stricken September 25, four days before his intended marriage to a classmate, Marian M. Ziegler.

While at G. W. Hawkins was active in University affairs, being president of the Interfraternity Council 1930-31, president of Kappa Sigma social fraternity, and member of Gate and Key honorary fraternity.

He was graduated from Central High school where he was a lieutenant in the cadet corps. He was formerly employed at the Bureau of Standards until two years ago when transferred to the Intelligence Division of the Navy Department.

Surviving him are his parents, a sister, Virginia F. Hawkins, editor of last year's Cherry Tree and prominent member of the Class of '34, and two brothers, Burton S., now a junior at the University, and Nowell H. Hawkins, all of Washington, D. C.

Doyle Will Edit Language Journal

Dr. Henry Gratton Doyle, dean of Columbian College and professor of romance languages, has begun a four-year term as managing editor of the Modern Language Journal, organ of the National Federation of Modern Language Teachers.

In making his editorial debut in the October issue of the Journal, Dean Doyle said that an important aspect of the magazine which will be developed even more than in the past is that of "building bridges" between language departments and departments of education. He also stated that the Journal, under his leadership, will be more of a teacher's publication, leaving subjects of scholarly research to magazines devoted to those subjects.

Gamma Eta Gamma Hears Assistant Attorney General

"Next to a skillful knowledge of rules of pleading, the successful attorney must know and be able to apply the practical principles of human psychology in the Court-room," declared the Honorable William G. Beardslee, assistant to the United States Attorney General, in an address before members of Gamma Eta Gamma, legal fraternity, Thursday evening.

Mr. Beardslee in his address, "The Application of the Law," stressed the advantages offered legal students in making contacts with leading local attorneys.

The fraternity formally pledged George Archer and George Carey.

Louisiana State Here Saturday

does as much in the Tiger back-field as Dixon did in the Vandy quartet and in the last three weeks he has been doing it much better. A big reason for "Biff" Jones' team going undefeated last season, his first year on the varsity, Mickal has rapidly pushed himself into the all-American group this fall and he and Leemans should put on a battle royal.

Fine Passer
"Tuffy" outplayed the highly-touted Dixon last Saturday but his mates failed to produce, the help the Commodores gave him. The Vandy victory somewhat overshadowed the fine play of Leemans but he'll be right back at 'em this week and Mickal must expect the strongest type of competition for individual honors.

With Abe's bullet-like aerials as the chief threat, the Tigers have reversed the orthodox method of attack. They use the forward pass as their main ground gainer and fall back on a nifty running attack once they get an advantage. They rolled over Mississippi State Saturday night to the tune of 25-3 as the final with this type of offense.

The Colonial backs, continually pushed to the wall by Dixon's zooming heaves, will get no rest Saturday with an opponent that uses the pass like L. S. U. with as much success as the "King-fishers" enjoy. Should Leemans and his mates halt the enemy aerials Jones will open up a running game that is equally as potent. A combination of the two tied the powerful Rice Owls early in the season and produced a like result with Southern Methodist's raging Mustangs.

Raft of Backs
Rounding out the Jones backfield will be Jess Fatheree, chief ground gainer last fall who averaged eight yards every time he lugged the oval. Earnest Seago, 182-pound halfback, and Bert Yates, 195-pound full, Jones also has Bill Crass, star soph punter and runner, Walter Sullivan, veteran quarterback, and "Rock" Reed, who hits like his nickname implies. The crafty Captain may use any of these in combination with Mickal.

Pixlee has passed the stage of experimentation with the back-field at last and will probably use the same quartet that started against Vandy. The work of Jenkins was highly satisfactory while Brewer was a slight improvement over previous trials. The blocking back position may be filled by any of two or three men while the line will start intact, barring injury during the week.

L. S. U. Game, Ball, Headline Program

include the "Echo Song" by Di-Lasso, and "Alma Mater."

Starting at 9 a. m. and continuing until noon Saturday, teams representing the alumni and undergraduate women will contest in four sports on the campus. Singles and doubles tennis matches, and double badminton contests will take place in the yard. An archery match in the gymnasium and a rifle contest on the range in Corcoran Hall will complete the morning program. Virginia Pope heads the undergraduate teams, and Jennie Turnbull manages the alumni units.

Huge Crowd Expected
A record-breaking crowd of alumni, students, and George Washington rooters is expected to witness the football game Saturday afternoon as the climax of the homecoming program. New designs by the Rousers, and new formations by the University band will be included in the between-the-half entertainment.

Special programs are being planned by many fraternities as farewell gestures to the alumni following the gridiron attraction Saturday.

Final plans for the homecoming celebration will be made Wednesday night when directors and committee members in charge of the affair meet in Corcoran Hall. The general committee includes James E. Kirkland, chairman; officials of the University, and the following representatives of campus organizations:

Twelve on Committee
Morse Allen, interfraternity council; Wendell Bain, chairman of the homecoming ball; Orrin Bartlett, band; Ludwig Caminita, Jr., co-ordinator of intra University relations; Joe Danzansky, cheer leader; Bernard Fagelson, Student Council; Machin Gardner, Speakers' Congress; William Helvestine Omicron Delta Kappa; John T. Madigan, The Hatchet; Theodore Pierson, Student Council; Everett Strandell, delegate at large; Mary Louise Yauch, Panhellenic Association.

Program to Stage Life of Bolivar

Initial Student Broadcast Will Take Place Early in December

"The Man Who Made a World" will be the title of the first of the student radio programs to be given some time in December. It deals with incidents in the life of Simon Bolivar, "the George Washington of South America," and will be broadcast for a half hour over radio station WMAL. Casting for this program will begin next week. All students wishing to try out should report to Dr. Alva C. Wilgus, chairman of the University radio committee. All students are eligible to appear on the program. Most of the programs will deal with incidents in the lives of great men and women. The script of the first program is now almost complete. It was written by the creative writing class under the supervision of Prof. Douglas Bement of the English department. Final reading and correction of the script will be made tomorrow night.

12 Run for Head Of Frosh Class

From the original list of six candidates for the office of vice president of the Freshman class, only two remained yesterday. They are Thelma Dunbar and Mary Kunna. One candidate dropped from the secretary's race, leaving Frances Knapp and Peggy Rucker as opponents.

The only list of candidates not affected by ineligibilities or withdrawals was that of treasurer. For this position three students will seek approval of the freshman class: Eleanor Akin, Helen Van Hook and Jerome E. Gundersheimer.

Following is a list of candidates and offices for which they are running:
Freshman class—President, Austin Cunningham; Carlisle Edwards, Lewis Holmes, Lloyd Kim Wessels, Robert Bernstein.
Vice president—Thelma Dunbar, Mary Kunna.
Secretary—Frances Knapp, Peggy Rucker.
Treasurer—Eleanor Akin, Helen Van Hook, Jerome E. Gundersheimer.

Student Council representatives—School of Engineering, Andrew F. Freeman.
Division of Library Science—Hazel Haynes.
School of Pharmacy—S. J. Latta.

NRA Legal Aides Write On Wages

in spite of this the writers draw the conclusion from a large number of authorities that by implication the employee has the right to secure the personal benefit intended for him under the code by such a private action in either a State or Federal court.

Billig was formerly a professor of law at West Virginia University, while Herrick and Fridinger are members of the District of Columbia and Ohio bars, respectively. Herrick is a graduate of the George Washington Law School and a former student editor of the first review, which appeared three years ago.

The Review, composed of two leading articles, six editorials, and 15 recent cases also carries a discussion of Article V of the Constitution and provisional methods for making amendments.

The general theory of amending procedure and substantive limitations of amending power are examined by William A. Plantz, Madison, Wis. The author obtained his subject matter from a seminar course on Constitutional Law and legal research under Prof. Edward S. Corwin of Princeton University. Plantz also mentions the History and Interpretation of the theory of Article V and how a convention for general research of the article might be called.

Editorials on the status of the National Labor Relations Board; and the application of the principle of sovereign immunity to property owned by the Russian Soviet governmental agencies, are contained in the November issue.

The Frazier-Lemke act and other amendments to the bankruptcy acts for the benefits of agricultural debtors and the problem of the compulsory process to the United States Comptroller General, and whether he can properly be mandamus by Federal courts are also editorial topics.

Other editorials discuss the jurisdiction of the Federal Trade Commission over Section 7 and 11 of the Clayton Act and the extent of a patent monopoly by injunctive relief after the expiration of the patent.

Copies of the Review will be available within the next few weeks at the Publications Office. Members of the Student Bar Association, are entitled to the Review.

Ruth Brewer Appointed Head of Women's Page

Ruth Brewer has been appointed women's page editor of The Hatchet by the board of editors. In this office she will be at the head of the society and women's sport department.

The office is a new one arising out of the idea adopted a year ago by The Hatchet of presenting news primarily of interest to women combined attractively on one page. Miss Brewer, who is vice president of the Sophomore Class, has been the active head of the department since the opening of the semester, and has been writing women's sports and society for more than a year.

Debate Aspirants Urged to Attend Meeting Thurs.

Men interested in intercollegiate debating are urged by Coach Henry G. Roberts to attend a meeting of the debate squad Thursday evening at 8:15 in building Y, room 16.

This year's subject is the nationalization of armaments. Teams will be organized Thursday night, and plans for practice contests will be made immediately.

Prof. Roberts announces that students from any school of the University are eligible for membership on the squad.

Speaking Contest Applications Due At 5 P. M. Today

All applications for the Davis Prize Speaking Contest for Seniors must be presented by 5 o'clock today at the public speaking office, building S. Prof. Harold Friend Harding announces that manuscripts will be due November 13.

The speeches of the contest, which is to be held November 20, must be 10 minutes long and of a persuasive nature. There will be three prizes: $15, $10, and $5.

Dr. William C. Johnstone will be chairman of the contest.

Law Professors Inaugurate Forum

Members of the Law School faculty will inaugurate a series of forum discussions on professional and educational subjects at the University Club Monday at their regular monthly meeting.

A talk involving a professional problem concerning legal education will be given by a member.

Arrangements for the discussions will be made by a committee consisting of Prof. Walter L. Moll, chairman, Prof. Charles S. Collier, and Prof. Carville D. Benson, Jr.

Inter-Fraternity Basketball Tourney Begins Monday Night

K. A.-S. M. S. Tilt Opens Activities; S. P. E. Favorites

Latter Has Won Two Years in Succession; Meets
S. A. E. in Opener

Keeping interfraternity competition at fever heat by immediately following tennis and golf with the basketball competition, the Greeks blow-off the lid in the title race in the gym Monday night at 8 p. m. when K. A. and Sigma Mu Sigma clash in the opener. Sigma Nu, runner-up to the champion S. P. E. team, meets the Delts in the second fracas of the first night and Sigma Chi and S. A. E. oppose in the nightcap.

S. P. E., winner of the crown for the past two years, is not scheduled for action until November 14, when it meets the Theta Delts in the first game. All eyes will be turned toward this contest to get a line of the former. Each team is determined to unseat the champs from their rather comfortable seat on the throne and an unusually hot race is expected. The finals will be played December 5.

These Colonial Stars Meet Tigers Saturday

Comparison of L.S.U., Colonial Records

Louisiana State, which rolls into town Friday under the leadership of Biff Jones, former West Point coach and Washington boy, comes here with a good record and is unbeaten to date.

Two ties mar the record of the Kingfishers, however. Rice and Southern Methodist being the tied teams. L. S. U. has rolled up 113 points with 32 being scored against it, and G. W. has scored 89 points with only 9 marked against it.

Nodaks Can Take It

North Dakota University's varsity football squad had been taking it on the chin all season from the Frosh squad. Against the Winnepeg All-Stars the varsity only scored 13 points, but the Frosh later scored 21 points against the same team.

Sooners, Tigers, Bobcats Triumph

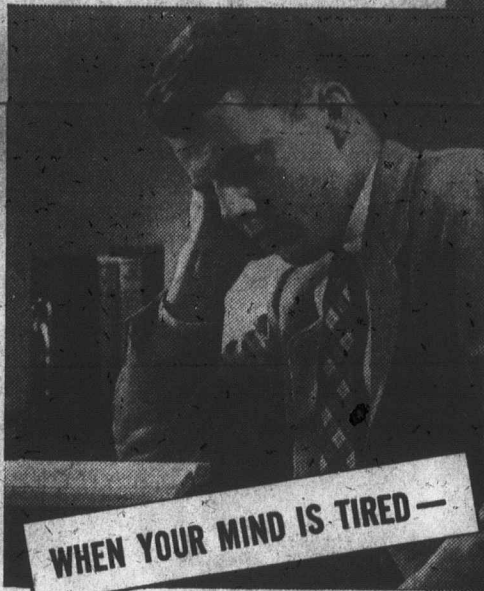

West Virginia to Meet
Rams, Conquerors of Vols, Saturday

Stocks in the remaining football teams the Colonials will meet took another rise over the week end. All four teams that played won, two very decisively. North Dakota defeated Moorehead Teachers, 12-0, and kept its record clean.

The Oklahoma Sooners won their second game of the season, routing Frank Carideo's Missouri Mules 31-0. After the Sooners' disappointing tie with Kansas last week, this lop-sided score was not unexpected. This week Oklahoma lines up against Iowa State, victor over Iowa. The Sooners won this game last year, 19-7, but their chances to win this year are far less.

Renewing an ancient rivalry, West Virginia defeated Ohio University, 7-2. In the third quarter the Mountaineers marched 80 yards to a touchdown and then kicked the extra point, Allen scoring and O'Neil converting. Earlier in the same period the Bobcats scored on a safety following a blocked kick. Saturday West Virginia meets Fordham. After the Rams' victory over Tennessee last week the Mountaineers look forward to a warm welcome.

With Senator Huey P. Long on the bench with Biff Jones' players, Louisiana State smothered Mississippi State, 25-3, in a night game Saturday. The Tigers put on an aerial attack in the first half and a running attack in the second. They scored in every quarter and made 18 first downs to the Sharpshooters' five. The game was spectacular, Mickal and Sullivan starring for the victors.

WHEN YOUR MIND IS TIRED—

JAMES S. MacVICKAR '35—PSYCHOLOGY.

He says: "I think there's a great field for psychology—so I try to hit the books for all I'm worth. When I'm listless or 'low,' smoking a Camel gives me a quick upturn in energy. Physical and mental fatigue drop away! The enjoyment one gets from Camel's fine flavor is an important psychological factor in maintaining poise."

How to get back vim and energy when "played out": Thousands of smokers can verify from their own experience the popular suggestion "get a lift with a Camel." When tired, Camels will make you feel refreshed—as good as new. And science adds confirmation of this "energizing effect." Camels aren't flat or "sweetish," either. You can smoke Camels steadily. Their finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS never get on the nerves!

MOUNTAIN CLIMBER. Miss Georgia Engelhard says: "Plenty of times I have thought 'I can't go another step.' Then I call a halt and smoke a Camel. It has been proved true over and over that a Camel picks me up in just a few minutes and gives me the energy to push on."

PRO FOOTBALL ACE. "Chiff" Montgomery of the Brooklyn Dodgers says: "After a tiring game, or any time when I feel like it, I light up a Camel and get a swell 'lift'—soon feel 100% again. I am seldom without a Camel—they don't interfere with healthy nerves."

Vanderbilt Hands Colonials Initial Defeat of Season

Commodores First to Cross
Buff and Blue's
Goal Line

By Sid Carroll

Up from the South came the mighty Commodores of Vanderbilt University to hand the George Washington Colonials their first defeat of the season, 7-6, Saturday, and in so doing they became the first team to cross the latter's goal line this year. It was the second time the Buff and Blue has been scored on. Wake Forest first turned the trick with a safety in its game here a week ago.

Play was even in the first quarter with both lines fighting hard for top honors, but G. W. was able to garner two first downs, both of which were aided no little by 5-yard penalties for offside by Vandy linemen. G. W. made another beginning the second period, again as a result of a Vanderbilt offside, but Vandy made three, one of which was a 15-yard run through center by Arnold Peebles, fullback, and another when "Kutch"

Hindoo Reverses; Deserves Curses

Sampath, the Hindoo water boy, imported by Jack Espey to play Gunga Din to the red-panted Colonials, was the cause of their defeat, according to many superstitious followers of the Buff and Blue.

In previous games Sampath sported a white turban for the first half and a blue one for the second.

Then came the fateful day! On Saturday, with the Commodores of Vanderbilt unleashing their vaunted power against George Washington's stalwarts, there sat Sampath with a blue turban on in the first half, and for the second half he blossomed forth in a buff head covering, not only reversing the order of colors but also injecting another.

Rally Sponsored By Liberal Club

Armistice Day Program to Show Dangers of War and Fascism

A rally sponsored by the Liberal Club, which will be held on the campus at 7 p. m. next Monday will be one of approximately 150 to be held at colleges and universities throughout the country on that day for the purpose of bringing to the attention of students the dangers of war and fascism, according to Robert Shostack, chairman of the program committee.

The call for this nation-wide student rally was issued jointly by six national student organizations—the Student League for Industrial Democracy, National Students' League, Student Councils of the Y. M. C. A., and Y. W. C. A., the Committee on Militarism and Education, and the International Students' Service.

Thirteenth to Speak

Harvey Thirteenth, president of the Liberal Club, will speak, and will also present several nationally known speakers. Among those expected to be present are Dr. H. W. Lardner, well-known economist from New York, and Joseph W. Leash, editor of the Student Outlook. Other campus organizations, including Speakers' Congress, International Students' Society, Methodist Club, and the International Relations Club, have been asked to lend their support to the rally.

Delegates from the Liberal Club will also join the auto caravan, made up of students from Wilson Teachers' College, Howard University, and American University, which will go to Baltimore on Saturday to attend a regional conference which is being sponsored by Johns Hopkins University.

Twenty colleges and universities are expected to be represented at this conference, which will be one of 15 to be held all over the country on November 10 and 11, to discuss the dangers of war and fascism, and the role played by munitions manufacturers in fomenting war and promoting ill-feeling among nations, and to discuss ways by which the students of the country may combat this evil.

Math Club Hears Hopman Tonight

William H. Hopman will speak on "Mathematical Logic" tonight at a meeting of the Mathematics Club in Building Y, room 27. Hopman is a graduate student and a member of the club.

At the club's meeting last Tuesday night, 12 new members were installed. They are Sebastiano Di Luzio, Lloyd Gebbard, Walter Hixon, George Hudson, Elizabeth Mitchell, Irvin Naimen, Mrs. Jean Neeland, Bernard Rice, V. E. Schult, F. P. Scott, Margaret Wenger and Maud Wooten.

New Policy Of Class Attendance In Law School

In announcing a new policy governing class attendance in the Law School, Dean William C. Van Vleet stated, "Hereafter an attendance record in each class will be given to the professor in charge, and he will consider it in evaluating the student's grade."

The relative importance of class attendance to determining the student's mark is now left solely to the individual professor in charge, according to the regulations recently adopted by the Law Faculty.

Formerly a faculty ruling penalized an absentee one semester-hour each course where he failed to attend 15 percent of the total recitations. Those absent from 10 percent were not punished, while those who failed to attend 25 percent were automatically dropped from the course.

Don Wilkins has been appointed as student assistant in taking the records.

Vandy First To Cross G. W. Goal

Kavaler interfered with a pass receiver. Plasmann's kick is pay-off. The third attempt, which incidentally was a touchdown, was a pass from Vandy's flashy quarterback, Rand Dixon, into the eager arms of Willie Geny, who was standing in the end zone waiting for the toss. Dick Plasmann's placement was good and later proved to be the "pay-off."

In the last two minutes of play of the first half, after Dixon had kicked into the end zone, G. W. took the ball on its own twenty. It was a play of the year on an attempted reverse. Leemans made a yard through center, and on the next play Plasmann, brilliant end, charged in fast and blocked Leemans' kick. Joe Dickson, visiting guard, fell on the ball on the Colonial's nine-yard line. The following play produced the Vandy score.

Only one play was made after the kickoff before the half ended with Vanderbilt leading 7-0.

G. W. came out fighting to start the third period and immediately took to the air. George Jenkins, who did a nice job of quarterbacking throughout the entire game, brought the kickoff up to the 42-yard line. A pass, Leemans to Arnold Benefield, was incomplete, and on the next play Leemans passed 38 yards to Bill Parrish, who ran the remaining distance to the goal untouched.

"Slats" Deming's kick, which looked good from the press box, was wide, according to the officials, and Vandy led 7-0.

G. W. Makes 10 First Downs. George Washington played a great game, making 10 first downs to Vandy's three. The Commodores did not make a first down during the second half.

The "Tuffy" Leemans-Rand Dixon battle was about even. Dixon's fine kicking pulled Vandy out of several holes, but Leemans gained more ground on running plays than did the Southerner. Both were about equal in passing ability. Penalties were frequent and all except one were for off-side plays. The Commodores were set back by seven for a total of 45 yards, while the Colonials were penalized twice for off-side.

The enemy line was a heavy, fast-charging aggregation which kept G. W. backs on their toes all afternoon. Plasmann, Geny, Dickson, and Strayhorn were the best of the invading linemen, while Benefield, Parrish, Deming, and Captain Ed. Clark stood out in the G. W. line.

Yearling Center Is Novice At Football

Cobe Swanson, freshman end, who was shifted to center when Rolf was injured, is a very shy and modest lad. He shuns all newspaper publicity, but Cobe is very deserving, so we present a thumbnail sketch.

Cobe hails from Illinois, where he was more of a basketball player than a football man. He was picked on the mythical all-state high school basketball team in his senior year. He is also one of the best amateur rifle shots in the state, and he is plenty tough on that old target.

Like Tommy O'Brien, this is Swanson's first attempt at playing football, but he is acquitting himself nobly. Cobe will deny all this, but 'tis true—quite true, as we learn from an inside source.

Home Economics Group To Hold Supper Meeting

Alpha Pi Epsilon, home economics fraternity, will hold a supper meeting in its room tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. for a room accessory shower and to complete plans for its decoration.

Hazel Cragun will present the report of the room decoration committee. Magnus Robertson and Anna Mess have been elected secretary and historian, respectively, of the club.

New Members to Be Voted By Sigma Tau Wednesday

Sigma Tau, honorary fraternity of the Engineering School, will vote on new members at its next meeting, Wednesday, November 14, at 7 p. m., in K-23.

The minimum requirement for membership in Sigma Tau is scholastic standing in the upper third of the junior or senior class.

Ruediger Attends Honor Banquet

Other Faculty Members Also Pay Tribute to American Authors

Dr. William Carl Ruediger, dean of the School of Education, will officially represent the University at the Newberry prize-banquet in honor of prize-winning American authors at the Mayflower Hotel Friday.

Six other members of the faculty and the Division of Library Science will be present. Elizabeth A. Lathrop, assistant professor of Library Science, and Dr. Paul Bartach, professor of zoology and curator of mollusks at the National Museum, will represent the faculty. Janet Feiker, vice president of the Library Science Society; Jane Hughes, Kathryn Hopwood, and Miriam Castile, alumni delegate, will also be present.

The Newberry prize banquet is sponsored by the Torch Club, library organization of Wilson Teachers' College, and will bring together for the first time the winners of the John Newberry Award. The medal is given each year by the American Library Association for the best contribution to American literature for children.

Gilchrist Speaks Before Chemists

Dr. Raleigh Gilchrist, of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, spoke on his recent experiences in Madrid and Paris, where he was official United States delegate to several chemical congresses, before the smoker held last week by Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemical fraternity.

Other members of the University faculty were Professors Van Evera, Ambler, Kavaler, and Howard. At the time of the banquet the members of the fraternity set the date of their Founders' Day banquet as December 7.

Hour Glass Will Meet Tomorrow; Plans Dance

Hour Glass, women's honorary activities fraternity, will meet for the first time this year in the Kappa Kappa Gamma rooms, tomorrow at 7 p. m.

The principal business of the meeting will be discussion and planning for a dance which is to be given in the near future, sponsored jointly by Hour Glass and Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary activities fraternity.

Prof. Richardson Completes Book

Edward Elliott Richardson, M.D., Ph.D., Elton professor of mental and moral philosophy, has completed "The Way to the Orient," a 150-page volume which will be published by the Judson Press in Philadelphia, early in December.

The book discusses the religions of the Eastern world. It contains views of the present existing caste system and the religious ceremonies of the different religious sects. Dr. Richardson spent two months in India, one month in China, some time in Japan and traveled 3,000 miles collecting source material for his forthcoming volume. While in the East, he lectured at the universities of Madras and Shanghai.

Phi Delta Delta To Meet Sunday

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former Assistant General of the United States and nationally known lawyer, is to be the principal speaker Sunday evening, November 11, at a Founders' Day dinner to be given at the Carlton Hotel by the George Washington chapter of Phi Delta Delta, national women's legal fraternity.

Phi Delta Delta was founded November 11, 1911, at the University of Southern California. Mrs. Willebrandt was one of the founders and the first initiate.

A rush party will be given at the Mayflower Hotel, Saturday, November 10.

Alpha Pi Epsilon to Hold Supper Meeting Tomorrow

Alpha Pi Epsilon, honorary home economics fraternity, will hold a supper meeting in the new rooms of the chapter, third floor of Building C, tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Magnus Robertson has recently been elected to the position of secretary left vacant by the absence from school of Eva Dake, who was elected last spring.

You will be satisfied with our food and prices. Try us. Breakfast ready for you at 8 A. M. to 2 P. M. and a very attractive Dinner 4:30 to 7:45. We also serve Breakfast and Luncheon at our Cafeteria. 1821 K Street N. W.

Lutheran Group Plans Conclave

Full-day Conference to Be Held December 8 in Columbian House

The Luther Club will hold a Lutheran student conference December 8, in Columbian House for a full-day consideration of the "A. B. C.'s of Christian Living." Students will come from the Washington area, which includes the District and the States of Virginia and Maryland.

Discussions are to be led by the following Lutheran ministers: Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder, Dr. Carl C. Ramussen, Dr. Amos John Traven, Dr. Henry W. Snyder, and Dr. N. J. G. Wickey. The Rev. Sam H. Korman is to lead devotionals in the morning and afternoon.

Other features of the program will be sight-seeing trips conducted in student autos between the afternoon and evening sessions, and a luncheon and dinner to be served in Columbian House. Plans are being made to accommodate students coming from a distance who will stay overnight.

Myrtle Mohagen is general chairman of the conference. Chairmen of the assisting committees are Gustav Kruger, Dorothy Jaeger, Dorothy Eck, Helen Fischer, and Victor Behn.

Society to Hear Readers' Adviser

Mrs. Helen Steinbarger, readers' adviser of the M. Pleasant branch of the public library, will discuss book reviews before the Library Science Society at 3 p. m., November 18, in Columbian House.

Development of plans for a trip by the society to Baltimore in December and amendment of the constitution will feature the business meeting before the speaker's address.

Kappa Kappa Psi Aids Band Drive

In an effort to further improve the Colonial Band, Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, has set the wheels in motion to institute a new deal for the band. The campaign will begin formally with a smoker to be held for friends and members of the band, when a presentation of several additions to the band library will be made.

Dean Schedler was elected president of the chapter and is to be assisted by Burke Drury, secretary; Orrin Bartlett, treasurer; and Macfarlane Knappen, editor.

Foreign Students To Be Entertained

The International Students' Society will present "Teutonic and Nordic Night" for the entertainment of its members at 8:30 Thursday evening in Columbian House.

Will Feuerlein, chairman, has planned a varied program, which includes a speaker on university life in Austria; films from Germany, and German songs with guitar and piano accompaniment; recitations typical of Holland and Sweden, and accordion music, yodel records and winter sport films from Switzerland.

Sigma Delta Phi to Meet This Afternoon, 1 O'clock

Sigma Delta Phi, women's honorary speech arts fraternity, will meet at 1 o'clock this afternoon in Building Q, to elect officers for the current year, according to an announcement made by Amanda Chittum, last year's president.
